DRUG HIGHWAYMEN.

The Scandalous Tricks of the Profession.

Adulterations, Ignorant Clerks and Physician's Percentages Combine to Rob the Public.

St. Louis, June 19.—The recent exposure of the tricks and swindles of the retail drug trade in Philadelphia has moved the Post-Dispatch, of this city, to start an investigation here, and the first hunt for light on the subject has been prolific of scandalous results.

"The physicians of St. Louis," said a clerk in a first-class downtown drugstore to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "have been complaining for a long time of the impurity of the drugs, and the unreliable manner in which the drug business is conducted. At the request of a prominent physician, a thorough investigation of the business was made, and a deplorable condition of affairs discovered. There are about 200 drug stores in the city, employing about 300 clerks at an average salary of $45 per month, and to be further statistical and accurate it may be stated that the drug stores south of Chestnut street and north of Washington avenue are principally conducted by Germans.

The law requires that

be kept for the inspection of the coroner, etc.; but morphine, opium, laudanum and other poisons are commonly sold and no record is kept. Many druggists have their regular customers, who use twenty-five to fifty cents worth of morphine daily, and these sales of narcotics form no insignificant portion of the month's receipts.

"Many drug-stores, too, are little better than dram-shops, and most of them sell intoxicating liquors in any quantity desired. Every drug-store keeps whisky, yet not once in a year is it ordered on a doctor's prescription.

"There is a widespread belief that druggists are classical scholars. This is a great mistake. Were the prescription, with the directions, written in Latin, presented for compounding, there are not five druggists in the city where it could be filled. In Great Britain a classical education is required, but not here.

"But it is the adulteration of drugs, of which the people have most reason to complain. Those in most common use have been selected for examination. There are two kinds of sedlitz powder recognized by the trade, 'full weight' and 'regular.' The 'full weight' seems to be the exception and not the rule. Spirits of camphor contained an average 25 per cent. of water, 15 per cent. of which was clear proof. Essence of vanilla used for ice cream, cake, etc., did not contain any vanilla, but was made from tonquin beans, a poisonous substance. Glycerine was found adulterated with 25 per cent. of water. Alcohol contained from 15 to 20 per cent. of water. Olive oil, it was found, had never seen an olive, in fact was nothing but cotton-seed oil. Laudanum was commonly not over one-half strength, the adulterants being alcohol and water. Sweet spirits of nitre was anything but sweet, it was strongly acid, and unfit for use. Arrow-root was found to be largely adulterated with corn-starch, in fact some specimens contained nothing else. Lime water, a very important medicine for the summer complaints of children, was found to be very weak; this was the result of carelessness either in making or in its not being properly preserved. Quinine is usually quite poor, but in several instances cinchonidine is used in its place. This substitution is the more inexcusable, as quinine is at present very cheap, and sold at the present rate, affords a profit of from four to six hundred per cent. Bay rum is commonly made from oil of bay, one ounce of which makes two gallons of the article sold in the shops. An inferior article of American soap is sold for imported castile soap. A great majority of the soda-water syrups examined have been found to consist of syrup, flavored with artificial essences. These essences are made from various ethers, and if used to any great extent are poisonous. They are mostly colored with aniline, and soap bark is added to make them foam. The least injurious is 'sarsaparilla syrup,' which is flavored with wintergreen, and colored with burned sugar, but it contains no sarsaparilla. The essence for flavoring pineapple is made from decayed cheese.

"Many persons were surprised when advanced twenty-five per cent. at one bound. That was the result of a combination by which each druggist bound himself to charge a certain price for each article; and deposit a note for twenty-five dollars, as a forfeit in case he broke his word. By this agreement articles like Husband's magnesia, that cost twenty-five cents, are sold for fifty cents, a very handsome profit, considering the druggist has only to hand them out."

"Considerable interest attaches to the question of the percentage paid by certain druggists to certain physicians for all prescriptions sent to their stores. It is a difficult matter to investigate, for the druggists are to a great extent afraid of the doctors. Still there seems to be no doubt in spite of protestations and denials, that the practice exists. Most of the druggists profess a profound ignorance, others say they have heard that certain druggists paid a percentage, but refuse to mention names. There are two so far as I know who have expressed themselves freely on the point. One said he found it necessary with two of his physicians, otherwise he could not have their business. He deplored the practice, and on being asked if paying did not affect his pocket, he said, "Oh no! I add the percentage to the price of the medicine; the patent pays for all." This percentage varies from 20 to 50 per cent. In the latter case the doctor always tells the patient that the medicine is expensive, and in this way all suspicion is avoided. The other druggist said he believed he was justified in obtaining business any way he could; commissions for obtaining business were commonly paid in other lines, and why not by druggists?" "What class of physicians do you usually pay percentage?" he was asked and answered, "only those whose offices are in my neighborhood and who do a good practice." "But would you not get a great portion of their business, even if you did not pay them a percentage?"

"No; some other druggist would make the same arrangement that I have now. Besides I get four-fifths of their practice, although most of their patients live at a distance."

"How do the doctors manage to send you patients from a distance?"

"Oh, there are various ways. Generally the doctor, on giving his prescription, tells the patient that he is very particular about the medicine, and requests that it be taken to my store. If the patient objects, and wishes to have the medicine made up by his family druggist, the doctor offers no further objection, merely stating his want of confidence in druggists in general. On the following visit the doctor takes the medicine, examines it, shakes his head, and looks wise. This seldom fails of the desired effect, especially if the patient is not improving. Besides, you know, I have no objection to the percentage, as it does not come out of my pocket."

"Many druggists make presents to physicians who send them prescriptions. One druggist estimates that this item cost him in the neighborhood of $500 per year, mostly around Christmas; besides he always furnished physicians medicine free of charge."

GREAT OIL COMBINATION.

A Syndicate With $15,000,000 Capital Said to Be Buying All the Oil Above Ground.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—The Times has information from Oil City, that besides the Standard Oil Company there is a syndicate with $15,000,000 capital to make a corner in oil. It is a blind pool, composed originally of New York, Pittsburg, and Chicago capital, to which has since been added another combination known as the "Pipe Line Syndicate." Wm. Riddle, President of the Pennsylvania Bank of Pittsburg, is at the head of the combination, and all orders to buy or sell are issued by him, the other members of the pool having no voice in the matter. Riddle acted in the same capacity for a combination composed of Russell Sage and others last fall and turned over to the syndicate a net profit of $8,500,000 the latter part of November. The present pool is supposed to hold certificates for 10,000,000 barrels of oil now and intends buying 2,000,000 barrels more, while the Pipe Line combination agreed to buy 6,000,000 or 8,000,000 barrels. The Union Oil Company and the Forest City Oil Company are also supposed to be in this latter combination. If these combinations succeed in getting this amount of oil they will have all the oil above ground and over two-thirds of what is represented by outstanding certificates. It is stated on pretty good authority that they have nearly the amount now, and that the price they have fixed for unloading is $1.50 per barrel.

Just who this high-priced oil is to be unloaded on is not stated. It is generally understood that a large number of traders and speculators are on the short side, and they are probably expected to bear part of the load. The syndicate has loaned out certificates for several million barrels, to enable the shorts to make their deliveries, and the calling in of this loaned oil is expected to create a great boom. Many expect this action to be taken soon, possibly next week, while others think it will not be taken for some time. No one knows positively except Mr. Riddle, and he is not likely to advertise the date much in advance. The great element of doubt remaining is the Standard Oil Company paper. This organization has been a constant seller on the market since prices crossed the dollar line. Before the late boom began it was reputed to hold 15,000 of the 25,000 1,000-certificate issued by the United Pipe Line. If it continues to hold half this number and the syndicates buy up 18,000,000 or 20,000,000 barrels, there will be very few certificates left for the trade at large, unless the Standard spills the balance of its load. The trade generally has considered the Standard a bear, and being accustomed to acknowledge its supremacy in the petroleum market, speculators have sold short very heavily. But it is beginning to be whispered that the Standard itself is at the bottom of the pool, and has appeared as an open bear to induce the light weights to go short. Time alone will tell; but every move in the big game is a warning to the public to get out of the oil market and stay out until the storm is over.

A Spanish Court Scandal.

[Cable Dispatch.] The young queen of Spain passed through Paris Monday on her way to meet her mother at Franzensbad. Madrid is rife with rumors of a great court scandal, which is to the effect that, having ascertained the relations of the King with a lady of the royal circle, being unwilling to take the view of such matters usually indulged by royal personages, she has fled with her children from Spain, and will never return thither. The statement has gained great currency on the continent, in spite of strenuous efforts to suppress it.

Investigation Ordered.

Rome, June 19.—The publication by the congregation of the propaganda of the documents issued by the pope, regarding Irish affairs, has given rise to considerable discussion in the college of cardinals. The differences of opinion expressed in this body have been so marked that the pope has instructed Cardinal Simoni to appoint a special commissioner to examine all questions and papers in connection with, or relating to, Irish affairs.

AN OHIO CYCLONE.

The City of Steubenville Knocked Out in One Round—Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania Devastated.

STEEUBENVILLE, O., June 19.—Last evening about 6 o'clock a cyclone struck this city, doing damage to property in the northern part of the city to the amount of $15,000. The track of the cyclone was from a due westerly course, and struck the city at the residence of the late Colonel McCook, overturning a large number of trees and passing over North Seventh street swept over the residence of Mrs. Harry Reynolds, breaking glass and shutters and tearing off the roof, and completely destroying an orchard. It then crossed the Pan Handle track, doing considerable damage to several residences. Trees in the path of the cyclone as it passed through the city were uprooted, and the scene presented this evening is one of great destruction. Eye-witnesses state that when the cyclone reached the bank of the river it plunged into the water, lifting it up about 100 feet. So far as learned, no one was injured. The telegraph wires were blown down and much damage done to the Union Cemetery. Considerable damage is reported in the neighborhood as far as Collier's Station. But little rain accompanied the cyclone.

PITTSBURG, June 19.—This section was visited by one of the heaviest rain and hail storms ever known in this city. Hail came down as large as eggs, and rain fell in torrents, filling the streets and cellars. Outside of this city the storm parook of the nature of a cyclone. Specials to the Dispatch and Commercial Gazette state that through Washington and southwestern counties houses and barns were unroofed, trees uprooted, and cattle killed. The damage to railroads from washouts and landslides, and to telegraph wires is also great, but so far no loss of life is reported. The storm did not last an hour, and was from the southwest. The specials say the track of the cyclone was from 100 to 400 feet wide, and in many places everything was swept as if by a broom.

MILLERSBURG, O., June 19.—A severe storm visited this town yesterday afternoon and tore the corner of the Court-house, leaving the edifice unsafe; tore up numerous trees, and unroofed several houses. The accompanying hail did great damage to crops.

GALION, O., June 19.—A terrible rain and hail-storm struck this city last evening, doing an immense amount of damage to crops and small fruits, unroofing houses, &c., and injuring the excavations for the water-works. Hail-stones as large as hickory-nuts fell for fifteen minutes. Horses broke loose and ran away, and for a while confusion reigned.

BOWENSTOWN, O., June 19.—The most destructive hail and rain-storm ever known in this county passed over here about four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Hail fell two inches in diameter, and several inches deep. Jacob W. Yardt, two and a half miles west of here, reports 150 lights of glass broken in his house, fifty to seventy-five chickens killed, and wheat and fruit cut off by hail.

THE DEMOCRACY.

Candidates and Delegates Pouring Into Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—Although the Democratic State Convention will not be called to order until 10 o'clock Thursday morning, delegates and candidates are already flocking upon the scene and filling up the hotel. General Durbin Ward's snowy mustache has been conspicuous among the crowds at the hotels since Sunday. What ever may be the result of the Convention it can not be denied that delegates, and visitors who are not delegates, enthuse at the sound of Ward's name.

Judge Hoadly and Geddes are both expected some time to-day.

Senator Thurman and his son Allen W. Jr., are not only in favor of Ward, but they talk Ward, and the effect of this talk is beginning to be felt. Senator Pendleton's headquarters are at the Neil House.

The Money Order Modification.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The modification of the money order system, adopted at the last session of Congress will go into operation July 2. After that date orders will be issued for all amounts not exceeding $100, while hitherto the limit for each order has been $50. The charge for orders not exceeding $10 will be reduced to eight cents, while the $100 orders will cost forty-five cents each.

A great many people seem to have got the erroneous idea that the new 2-cent letter postage rate will go into effect July 1, but it will really not do so until October 1. It is feared that a great many people will begin practicing on the 2-cent rate before it has become legal, and that a large number of letters will, accordingly, have to be "deadened" for want of postage.

Japan Thinks China Has a Rod in Pickle.

SHANGHAI, June 19.—Japan is deeply interested in the Tongku question, and suspects that when China has got all ready for war she will suddenly come to terms with France and then fall upon Japan and settle the ancient grudge between those nations. Consequently, Japan is preparing for war on a large scale. England has not shown her hand. Russia is passive. The American representative is working for a peaceful settlement between France and China.

The reactionary party in Pekin have prevailed upon the Emperor to send Le Hung Chang to Shanghai for the express purpose of ruining him. At present it is impossible to force the result.

McHugh Granted a New Trial.

COLUMBUS, June 19.—The supreme court to-day granted McHugh a new trial, on grounds furnished by the Dixon case. He is now saved from the gallows a second time.

FIGHTING IN ECUADOR.

The Siege of Guayaquil by the Revolutionists.

PANAMA, June 18.—The revolution in Ecuador has not yet terminated. The rebels surround Guayaquil, and by feints and light attacks keep Veintimilla and his troops on the continual move. Several skirmishes have taken place, but the number of lives lost has fortunately been small. Veintimilla believes his enemies less dangerous in the ranks than in the streets and makes them all shoulder a rifle. Desertion follows, and the contagion spreads so rapidly that small bodies of men are never sent out to feel the lines. Alfaro and Sarasti are gradually tightening around the city. All stores are closed at nightfall, and many sleep in the consulates, while those in the exposed parts take refuge in the houses of friends they think are more happily situated. Foreigners have placed placards on their houses declaring their ownership by neutrals, who are not afraid of the revolutionists, but fear the government troops may break loose and commence to plunder. Provisions are scarce and dear.

Some shots have been exchanged, and Alfaro's men made a pretended attack on the town on the 23d ult. Firing commenced about one a. m., and was kept up until almost three o'clock. The rifle and machine gun fire was well sustained and some sixty cannon shots were fired. Some small shells fell in the city, but did no harm. Veintimilla depends on the heights to assist his defence, but the rebel guns outrange him, and the rebel hope to succeed in gradually driving his men down to the level. The revolutionists are doing their utmost to avoid any conflict which may expose the city, while the Dictator's object is evidently so to compromise matters as to insure the destruction of the town, while merchants and working people are unanimous in wishing him well out of power. The land wire which connects Guayaquil with the cable on the coast has been interrupted by the rebels, and consequently nothing will be heard from that port until its capture has been effected.

WESTERN FLOODS.

Seven Lives Lost in Kansas—Reports From Other Points.

SENECA, KANSAS, June 19.—A result of Saturday's and Sunday's storm all the big streams in the county are overflowed, and there is scarcely a bridge but what is not damaged or carried away. At Bakersford Thomas Atkins and family attempted to leave their home, which was threatened with destruction by the water, and take Mr. Borani, wife and children along. There were eight in the wagon, which was caught in the current of Turkey creek and upset, and seven of the party were drowned. Mrs. Borani alone escaping. She lodged in a tree, but was rescued fourteen hours afterward. Her baby was washed from her arms and drowned. Only one of the other bodies has yet been found. At Cincinnati, twelve miles north, one farmer lost 100 hogs.

St. Louis, Mo., June 19.—The indications are for unusually high water in the Missouri river. The town of Corning, forty miles north of St. Joseph, is inundated and several houses are entirely swept away. About four miles of the railroad are under water. All the railroads in the Western and Central Missouri, excepting the Missouri Pacific, are badly washed and trains are generally abandoned. It looks as though serious trouble, not only to railroads, but to all river towns and bottom land farms, is to result from the present or threatened condition of the rivers.

DETROIT, June 19.—Reports from Van Buren county indicate that a heavy rain storm, almost a water spout, visited that section yesterday afternoon, washing out roads, railroad culverts, highway bridges, and plowed fields at a great rate. The damage to property must be considerable.

Swindled Twice by the Same Man.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Ferdinand Witte, a young German, has been committed in the Jefferson Market Police Court on two charges of swindling made by Henry A. Soddong, of 434 East Fifth street. Mr. Soddong said that in May, 1882, Witte brought to him a letter of introduction from a brother-in-law in Chicago. This afterward proved to be a forgery. Witte said he was a broker, and had failed, but had saved from the wreck $50,000 in Government bonds, which were in a tin box at the Manhattan Safe Deposit Company. He got the box and gave it to Mr. Soddong for safe keeping. From time to time he borrowed money from Mr. Soddong. Finally he said the bonds stood in his grandmother's name, and it would be necessary to go to Washington and have them transferred. They went to Washington last December, and had a jolly time on more money which Witte borrowed. There was a hitch in Washington, and Mr. Soddong became suspicious and broke open the box. It contained rubbish of no value.

Witte had obtained $4,800 from him altogether. On their return to the city Soddong had Witte arrested, but failed to make out his case. Witte regained his confidence and borrowed $500 more, and last week Soddong again caused his arrest.

Heirs to a Million.

LYNN, MASS., June 19.—A representative of a New York law firm has been in town inquiring for the relatives of a man named Foot, who, he said, resided in Lynn some time between 1850 and 1860, and was connected in some way with the paper business, just what kind does not appear. He said Foot went to New York about the year 1860, and engaged in the brewing business. After a while he became involved in a lawsuit. Foot died, but the suit was still pushed, and within a short time a verdict for Mr. Foot was rendered by the New York courts. The amount involved is nearly or quite $1,000,000, which, minus the lawyers' fees, goes to the heirs of Mr. Foot if they can be found.

Two Desperate Prisoners Escape and Liberate Ten Others.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 20.—West Chester has been thrown into great excitement by the report that a notorious horse-thief named Frankfort Joe had broken jail, and, on his way to liberty, had released the equally notorious William Robinson and a third convict, and had liberated about ten other men. Frankfort Joe occupied an iron-sheathed cell, and apparently had been working quietly from the moment of his incarceration to get out. In some way he obtained possession of the blade of a butcher-knife, which he fitted into a pine handle and then notched the edges so that he might have a saw, by which he completed his opening into the next cell, which was occupied by Robinson. The two together then attacked the ceiling of Robinson's cell and soon emerged into a cell on the floor above, whose occupant turned in with alacrity to assist in cutting a hole into the attic. This was accomplished without much difficulty, and the trio then traversed the attic to the street end of the structure, where they cut a hole through the roof and lowered themselves to the street by means of a rope made out of their shirts and bed sheets. One of them possessed himself of a key which opened the room where the other prisoners were, and they took French leave down the same line, which the horse thieves left hanging from the roof of the jail.

Charges of Favoritism.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—In May last Postmaster General Gresham issued proposals for blank books, blanks, etc. Wynkoop & Hallenbeck, of New York, put in the lowest bid for books, and on June 8 a letter was sent awarding them the contract. June 9 there was sent a telegram to New York saying that there were errors in some of the bids and proposals would again be advertised for. At once Wynkoop & Hallenbeck telegraphed their protest and followed it by a letter setting forth the injustice done them. The reason for the action of the Postmaster General was that after the bids were opened and the contract awarded, S. P. Rounds, the United States Printer, claimed that he had made an error in some of his items which would have given him the contract, though his bid was $40,345.32 and that of Wynkoop & Hallenbeck $34,592.98. The consequence of this act of favoritism is that the Government will be sued for $100,000.

A Cincinnati Rag Picker's Wealth.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Chas. Doehring, aged seventy, who has been a rag picker in this city for years, died in the City Hospital yesterday. He lived in an old attic at 122 Clay street. Upon his person, when searched at the hospital, $370 in money was found. An investigation of his den in the attic turned up $200 in United States Government bonds, $224 in currency, $275 in coin and $5,000 in building association stock. There was also found a will bequeathing his wealth to the German Protestant Orphan Asylum on Mt. Vernon. A. E. Heighway, jr., was appointed administrator.

A Startling Discovery.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—While workmen were engaged in excavating the cellar where William Penn's old house used to stand, on Lotia street, near Second and Market streets, they discovered a brick vault directly in the center of the cellar. The vault was opened and an ancient coffin was exposed to view. From the appearance of the coffin it had evidently been there many years. It contained the bones of a human being, probably the remains of some early settler who came to this country with some early Quaker. The coroner will take charge of the coffin and contents.

A Happy Mother.

CHRISMAN, ILL., June 19.—As the west-bound passenger train on the Indiana, Bloomington and Western was running about twenty miles an hour near this place, on Saturday evening, the little three-year-old child of Mrs. Chas. Tynor, who was aboard the train with its mother, accidentally fell out of the coach window. The train was immediately brought to a standstill, and parties hastened back, expecting to find the child a corpse; but, strange to say, it was not hurt in the least, and had picked itself up and was following the train.

Another Circus Riot.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 19.—O'Brien's Circus, which showed here last night, was attacked by hoodlums. Four were arrested by Special Officers Curthy, Thomas, Raub and Evans, but on the way to the lock-up the other hoodlums, 200 strong, set upon the officers with stones and brickbats and liberated their cronies. The officers were severely used up. This is the same circus that met with a warm reception at Dover, Del., a short time ago.

Big Speculators to the Wall.

NEW YORK, June 19.—R. H. Parks & Co., New York house of M. S. Nicholas & Co., the gigantic Chicago speculators, has just gone under.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Peck & Bausher, the oldest and largest lard and lard oil firm in the west, has failed.

John Devoy's Dose.

NEW YORK, June 19.—John Devoy, editor of the Irish Nation, convicted yesterday of libelling August Belmont, was to-day sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The Broken Lard Firm.

CHICAGO, June 19.—John R. Bensley has been appointed receiver for the brokers firm of operators of McGeoch, Everingham & Co., and all settlements will be made through him.

The same correspondent claims that Direly will prove an alibi by indisputable testimony.

SEVERAL physicians in New York united in a petition to the Board of Education to extend the summer vacation of the public schools well into September to prevent the return of the pupils during the hot weather, at a time when they may easily lose in two weeks of school drudgery all that they have gained by two months' relaxation. As a matter of fact there are many seasons when the early days of September are quite as hot and unsuited for the hopeful pursuit of studies as the latter days of August, and the doctors think that the schools would be improved if the benefit of the doubt as to the end of summer weather were given to the pupils and teachers. The board has compromised the matter by extending the vacation one week instead of two weeks as recommended.

His sight and hearing only are so much impaired that he reads with difficulty, and it is laborious to converse with him; but he talks connectedly, intelligently and instructively on any topic that may be suggested.

BOY'S SMOKING.

Its Effect Upon Them as Ascertained by Leading Physicians.

When boys are advised not to smoke on hygienic grounds they laugh at the advice, and speak of its givers as old fogies. But careful experiments, lately made by a physician of repute, prove that the practice is very injurious. He took for his purpose thirty-eight boys, from nine to fifteen, who had been in the habit of smoking, and examined them closely. In twenty-seven he found obvious harmful effects; twenty-two having various disorders of the circulation and digestion palpitation of the heart, and more or less craving for strong drink; twelve of the boys were frequently troubled with bleeding at the nose; ten had disturbed sleep; twelve had slight ulceration of the mucous membrane of the mouth, which disappeared after discontinuation of tobacco for ten or twelve days. The physician treated them all for weakness and nervousness, though with little avail, until they had relinquished smoking, when health and strength were speedily restored.

Even if it be granted that smoking is not harmful to adults, there is no doubt of its harmfulness to the young. Dr. Ranking, Dr. Richardson, and others, who have made a special study of the subject, all agree in declaring that it causes them impairment of growth, premature virility, and physical degradation. One of the worst effects is the provocation of an appetite for liquor, which, indeed, is not confined to the young, but which grown persons are better able to manage. Where boys drink to excess, they are almost invariably smokers, and it is very rare to find a man overfond of spirits who is not addicted to tobacco. Men who want to give up drinking usually have to give up smoking at the same time; for they say that a cigar or a pipe generally excites a desire for liquor very hard to control.

A Vassar girl, who dresses in half mourning, was asked the reason. She replied that she was mourning for her half-brother.

A Murderous Mexican Hanged to a Bridge.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—A special from Los Gatos, a small town on the Southern Pacific Coast, gives the details of a murder and lynching. About 3 o'clock this afternoon two Mexicans, named Incarnation Garcia and Raphael Maravales, had a quarrel over cards in a bar-room.

Maravales was an old man and fled from the room pursued by Garcia, who bore a bad reputation as a desperate man. When they reached the corner of the house Maravales drew a knife and made several passes at his pursuer. His son then tried to separate the combatants, when, in some way, Garcia got the knife and made two swift lunges into the abdomen of Maravales. The old man sank in a heap, his bowels protruding from the ghastly wound, and after a few gasps gave up the ghost.

Garcia was locked in the calaboose. Soon after a crowd assembled, and, after hearing the story of the son, went to the calaboose, took out Garcia, marched him down to a bridge near the scene of the fatal quarrel and swung him off. His neck was broken, and at 4 o'clock, only one hour after the affray began, Garcia's dead body was cut down by the constable.

Probable Murder at Kenton, O.

KENTON, O., June 19.—Fred Ruffy, a saloon-keeper, has been nearly murdered, or attempted to commit suicide. He was found in his saloon, the door locked, and his throat cut from ear to ear, but the gash was too low to strike the jugular vein. Circumstances pointed strongly to Wm. J. Hall as the perpetrator of the deed. He had been seen pulling down the blinds of the saloon at daylight Sunday morning, and blood marks were found on the stairway leading to his room and on his door. Sheriff Wells and J. H. Collins went to his parents' residence, west of town, whither he had gone Sunday morning, and arrested him about 10 o'clock last night and lodged him in jail, where he was interviewed this morning, but denied all knowledge of the crime. Ruffy, it is said, was able to talk last night, and told his mother that Hall cut his throat and then robbed him. Further developments are expected soon.

MEDICATED WELL-WATER.

A Specific for Dyspepsia and Diseases of the Kidneys.

HAS been used with most gratifying success in many obstinate cases. Prof. F. W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati says this water "belongs to the same class with that of the Alleghany Springs, of Virginia," the medicinal virtues of which are too well known to be stated here.

Those who desire to try this famous water are referred to Captain C. W. Boyd, Levanona Ohio; Captain C. M. Holloway, Cincinnati, Ohio; J. J. Ralpe, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale in half barrels and jugs by

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882. Messrs. J. C. Ayer & Co., Gentlemen: Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and catarrhal cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good. Yours respectfully, Z. P. Wilds."

The above instance is but one of the many constantly coming to our notice, which prove the perfect adaptability of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to the cure of all diseases arising from impure or impoverished blood, and a weakened vitality.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

cleanses, enriches, and strengthens the blood, stimulates the action of the stomach and bowels, and thereby enables the system to resist and overcome the attacks of all Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Rheumatism, Catarrh, General Debility, and all disorders resulting from poor or corrupted blood and a low state of the system.
